A unique English course designed to match today's WOMEN

To be a woman in a man's world is tough. But in every field Indian women have shown their talent and shown they can be tough too. From being a home maker to a pilot, the sky is the limit for Indian women. In the male dominated corporate corridors of India, women have still been able to make their mark.

Till five years ago, people used to say, "If you are trying to balance a career and a family in today's industry, it's a little difficult to do that because it is such a demanding industry." But now we can say that women are juggling their professional and personal lives perfectly. But smart work, dedication and the ability to adapt has changed all this.

If in spite of all these factors, if women are able to succeed, it is because of absolute determination. Time English Training Academy is proud to be a part of the movement.
